

sake/business

Previous Workaway International recruits who hail from the Garden Route.

South Africans wanted to work at luxury country clubs in the USA

If you work in the hospitality industry and would like to gain valuable international experience at five-star country clubs in the USA, Workaway International will help you to get there!

Workaway International has started recruiting for the 2011/2012 season and is looking for chefs, waitrons, bartenders and golf attendants to work at some of the most exclusive country clubs in Florida, USA.

"It was an experience I will never forget," enthuses John Levendal of Mossel Bay, who recently completed his second season in Florida working as a golf cart attendant. "Although it is hard work, I had a good time and met so many great people. I'm aiming to go back again on the next program in October and am encouraging a few friends to join me."

Fellow Workaway International recruit, Dylan Leonard, from George worked as a waitron and was lucky enough to travel to the Bahama's and New York on completion of his season. He encourages anyone who wants to boost their CV with international work experience to get in touch with Workaway International. "They arranged a position for me at one of the top country clubs, assisted me with finding accommodation and even helped me with my taxes!"

Interested applicants need to be between the ages of 18 - 29 years (up to 35 years for waitrons and chefs) and available between October this year and May next year. If you are fluent in English, customer service-orientated, and want to earn dollars, then this opportunity is for you!

To hear more about Workaway International, attend a free information session on Saturday 11 June. It starts at 11:00 and will be held at the Protea Hotel, King George Drive, King George Park. Contact 0861 9675 2929 or 021 671 8808 or visit www.workawayinternational.co.za for more information.

Work in the USA

Waitrons • Chefs
Golf Attendants • Reception

Are you between 19 and 29 (chefs and waitrons up to 35)?

Fluent in English and customer-service oriented?

Available from October 2011 to May 2012?

Then join us for a FREE presentation!

